Discovering ADHD in Adults

Meet the experts and immerse yourselves in our adult ADHD educational journey

Monday, October 8th

Opening hours: 14.45–16.45
Room 118/119 (Floor P1), Centre de Convencions Internacional de Barcelona (CCIB), Barcelona, Spain

An expert science exchange session on the occasion of the 31st ECNP Congress, with educational financial support provided by Shire Medical Affairs

This programme is not intended or eligible for continuing medical education (CME) or continuing education (CE).

Approximately 2.8% of adults worldwide may have ADHD[1]

1 adult in 35 may have ADHD

Many of them, however, may not be diagnosed. Fewer than 20% of adults with ADHD are currenty diagnosed and/or treated by psychiatrists[2] of adults with ADHD have received treatment in the past 12 months[1]

3.3%

Faculty

Anthony L. Rostain, MD, MA is a Professor of Psychiatry and Paediatrics at the University of Pennsylvania Perelman School of Medicine, USA and is Education Committee Co-Chair of the American Professional Society of ADHD and Related Disorders (APSARD)

Susan J. Young, BSc (Hons), DClinPsy, PhD, CSci, AFBPS is the Director of Psychology Services Limited and an Honorary Professor at both Reykjavik University, Iceland and Bucks New University, UK. She is President of the UK ADHD Partnership; Vice-President of the UK Adult ADHD Network; and is a Trustee of The ADHD Foundation, UK

Josep Antoni Ramos-Quiroga, MD, PhD is a Professor of Psychiatry at Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona, Spain and is Head of the Department of Psychiatry at Hospital Universitari Vall d'Hebron, Spain

References
1. Fayyad J, et al. Atten Def Hyp Disord 2017; 9: 47–65.
2. Ginsberg Y, et al. Prim Care Companion CNS Disord 2014; 16(3): PCC.13r01600.

VV-MEDCOM-8938
Date of Preparation: August 2018

© Shire 2018. All rights reserved. SHIRE and the Shire logo are registered trademarks of Shire Pharmaceutical Holdings Ireland Limited or its affiliates