

Patient centricity in depression: how to measure what is most important?

Satellite symposium on the occasion of the 32nd ECNP Congress with educational financial support provided by H. Lundbeck A/S

Join us in Copenhagen for our exciting satellite symposium

Saturday 7 September 2019, 12:15–13:45

Room C4, Bella Center Copenhagen, Copenhagen, Denmark

Speakers: Koen Demyttenaere (Chair), Eduard Vieta and Pratap Chokka

Patient centricity in depression: how to measure what is most important?

Time	Title	Speaker
12:15–12:20	Welcome and introduction	Koen Demyttenaere (Belgium)
12:20–12:40	Targeting functional recovery: beyond symptom response and remission Explaining how treatment goals for patients with major depressive disorder (MDD) are evolving to incorporate all symptoms, including physical, cognitive and emotional symptoms, and their direct impact on functional recovery	Eduard Vieta (Spain)
12:40–13:00	Recovery from depression: are physicians and patients on the same page? Highlighting current scales measuring and assessing function, including the Leuven Affect and Pleasure Scale, and evaluating whether they address patient expectations	Koen Demyttenaere
13:00–13:20	Does good work equal good health in working patients with MDD? A discussion on how real-world effectiveness studies of antidepressants may complement evidence from Phase III trials, illustrated with data from working patients with MDD	Pratap Chokka (Canada)
13:20–13:40	Q&A	All
13:40–13:45	Chair's summary	Koen Demyttenaere